ABOUT THIS REPORT

Understanding the views of Federal employees

Federal employees hold positions that are critical to the health, safety and welfare of our nation. It is important to have an in-depth understanding of employee views to ensure that the Federal Government is able to attract and retain the best, most talented employees to fill these key positions.

Assessing your agency's strengths and challenges

The Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) is a key tool in assessing which policies, programs and other aspects of the work environment are viewed positively by employees, as well as finding out which aspects are not working so well. This report is designed specifically to provide agency leadership with insight into the unique strengths and challenges of their individual employee populations.

Comparisons to past survey results and governmentwide averages are included throughout the report to ensure meaningful and action-oriented content. These comparisons highlight areas that have improved or declined, and provide benchmarks for interpreting the 2012 results.

Multiple perspectives of your agency's results

This report provides a broad but interconnected picture of your results, and includes...

- Strengths and Challenges: Results for the 10 survey items with the highest percent positive and highest percent negative responses;
- Increases and Decreases: Survey items that increased or decreased by 5 or more percentage points since 2011;
- Above and Below: Survey items where your agency leads and trails the Federal Government average by 5 or more percentage points;
- Indices:
  - Human Capital Assessment and Accessibility Framework
  - Employee Engagement
  - Global Satisfaction;
- Decision Aid: A summary table highlighting your agency's positive, neutral and negative results;
- Work/Life Programs: A breakdown of your agency's participation rates and satisfaction ratings of these programs;
- Diversity: Your agency's survey respondent characteristics;
- Appendices: A set of appendices that show results benchmarked against agency high/low results and percentile scores; unweighted demographic item results; a trend analysis of 2008, 2010, 2011 and 2012 results; HCAAF, employee engagement and global satisfaction results for each subagency; and a description of the survey methods.

What do the survey results represent?

The results represent a snapshot in time of the perceptions of the Federal workforce. Statisticians weighted returned survey data to adjust for differences between characteristics of the respondents and the population of Federal employees surveyed. The governmentwide results have a plus or minus one percent margin of error.

THE 2012 FEDERAL EMPLOYEE VIEWPOINT SURVEY

What did the survey measure?

The 98-item survey included 84 items that measured Federal employees' perceptions about how effectively agencies manage their workforce, as well as 14 demographic items. The survey was grouped into eight topic areas:

- Personal Work Experiences
- Work Unit
- Agency
- Supervisor/Team Leader
- Leadership
- Satisfaction
- Work/Life Programs
- Demographics

What's new?

More than 687,000 Federal employees participated in this survey.

Employees from 37 Departments/large agencies and 45 small/independent agencies, comprising 97 percent of the executive branch workforce, participated in this year's survey. Four new agencies that did not participate in the 2011 survey also chose to participate this year. The governmentwide response rate was 46.1 percent.

Expanded eligibility criteria

In past FEVS administrations, only full-time permanent employees were surveyed. In 2012, the eligibility criteria were expanded to include both full-time and part-time permanent, non-seasonal employees who were on board with their agencies as of October 2011.

New survey items

The demographic section measuring Federal workforce diversity was expanded in 2012 with the addition of three new items addressing gender identity and sexual orientation, disability status and veteran status.

When were employees surveyed?

Previous survey field periods were limited to approximately two months, but in 2012 OPM extended the field period to three months (April-June 2012) to accommodate surveying over 1.6 million Federal employees. Agency launch dates were staggered throughout this timeframe, and each agency was offered a 6 week administration period but could opt for a shorter administration period. The survey was administered electronically, with paper versions provided to employees without internet access.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR RESULTS

When comparing to past survey results or governmentwide results, it is useful to apply rules of thumb to determine which findings are notable. Although significance tests could be run on each comparison, it is impractical to do so; even small differences will be significant when analyzing results of large agencies.

Positive ratings are the sum of the two positive categories (e.g., Strongly Agree/Agree or Very Satisfied/Satisfied), and negative ratings are the sum of the two negative categories (e.g., Strongly Disagree/Disagree or Very Dissatisfied/Dissatisfied).

- Items that are 65 percent or more positive are considered strengths
- Items that are 35 percent or more negative are considered challenges
- Items that are 30 percent or more neutral suggests uncertainty, presenting an opportunity for more agency communication
- A difference of 5 percentage points or more is considered notable

YOUR AGENCY RESPONSE

Field Period

May 16, 2012 – June 29, 2012

Response Rate

53% (748 out of 1,402 employees responded)

Agency results have a margin of error of +/- 2%

STRENGTHS

Focusing on challenges facing the workforce is critical, but it is equally important to acknowledge areas of strength. Examining positive employee feedback can lead to a better understanding of which programs, policies and other aspects of the organization are viewed favorably by employees. Your agency's 10 highest percent positive responses are displayed in Figure 1 below, along with the 2012 governmentwide percent positive for comparison.

CHALLENGES

Examining the most negative responses and identifying potential themes is useful in determining aspects of your agency that may benefit from targeted action. Figure 2 below displays your agency's 10 highest percent negative responses, along with the 2012 governmentwide percent negative for comparison.

INCREASES AND DECREASES

Agency items that increased and decreased the most from 2011

Taking a look at survey items that have increased or decreased the most since 2011 can help you understand where your agency has made improvements and where future action may need to be focused. Table 1 displays the items that had the greatest changes (5 or more percentage points) in percent positive rating. If your agency had more than 10 items that changed by 5 percentage points or more, only the 10 items with the greatest changes are shown.

INDICES

Human Capital Assessment and Accountability Framework (HCAAF)

The HCAAF indices were created to guide governmentwide efforts to support agency mission results with strong human capital strategies, and they provide consistent metrics for measuring progress toward HCAAF objectives. For more information on these metrics, refer to OPM’s website: www.opm.gov/hcaaf\_resource\_center/assets/hcaaf\_ssm.pdf.

Figure 3 shows your agency results with appropriate comparisons for the four HCAAF indices: Leadership and Knowledge Management, Results-Oriented Performance Culture, Talent Management and Job Satisfaction.

The LEADERSHIP & KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT INDEX indicates the extent to which employees hold their leadership in high regard, both overall and on specific facets of leadership. It is made up of items 10, 35, 36, 51, 52, 53, 55, 56, 57, 61, 64 and 66.

The RESULTS-ORIENTED PERFORMANCE CULTURE INDEX indicates the extent to which employees believe their organizational culture promotes improvement in processes, products and services and organizational outcomes. It is made up of items 12, 14, 15, 20, 22, 23, 24, 30, 32, 33, 42, 44 and 65.

The TALENT MANAGEMENT INDEX indicates the extent to which employees think the organization has the talent necessary to achieve organizational goals. It is made up of items 1, 11, 18, 21, 29, 47 and 68.

The JOB SATISFACTION INDEX indicates the extent to which employees are satisfied with their jobs and various aspects thereof. It is made up of items 4, 5, 13, 63, 67, 69 and 70.

Employee Engagement

An engaged employee is seen as one who is immersed in the content of the job and energized to spend extra effort in job performance. The 2012 Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey does not contain direct measurements of employee engagement such as passion, commitment and involvement. However, it does include questions that cover most, if not all, of the conditions likely to lead to employee engagement (e.g., leadership, opportunity to use skills, etc.). OPM created an index using these items, and excluded any items measuring satisfaction in order to differentiate this index from a job satisfaction index.

LEADERS LEAD reflects the employees' perceptions of the integrity of leadership, as well as leadership behaviors such as communication and workforce motivation. It is made up of items 53, 54, 56, 60 and 61.

SUPERVISORS reflects the interpersonal relationship between worker and supervisor, including trust, respect and support. It is made up of items 47, 48, 49, 51 and 52.

INTRINSIC WORK EXPERIENCES reflects the employees' feelings of motivation and competency relating to their role in the workplace. It is made up of items 3, 4, 6, 11 and 12.

Global Satisfaction

OPM created the Global Satisfaction Index to provide a more comprehensive indicator of employees' overall work satisfaction. The index is a combination of employees' satisfaction with their job, their pay and their organization, plus their willingness to recommend their organization as a good place to work.

JOB SATISFACTION is item 69. Considering everything, how satisfied are you with your job?

PAY SATISFACTION is item 70. Considering everything, how satisfied are you with your pay?

ORGANIZATION SATISFACTION is item 71. Considering everything, how satisfied are you with your organization?

RECOMMEND ORGANIZATION is item 40. I recommend my organization as a good place to work.

DECISION AID

Transforming your results into action

GREEN SHADED CELL The item is 65 percent positive or higher. This is an area of strength in your agency.

GOLD SHADED CELL The item is 30 percent neutral or higher. This is an area for more communication in your agency.

BROWN SHADED CELL The item is 35 percent negative or higher. This is an area of challenge in your agency.

Comparisons to % Positive (last two columns)

GREEN NUMBER Your 2012 percent positive was 5 or more percentage points higher than this number.

BROWN NUMBER Your 2012 percent positive was 5 or more percentage points lower than this number.

WORK/LIFE PROGRAMS

Work/Life programs provide employees with resources to effectively balance their responsibilities both inside and outside of the workplace. The Work/Life program participation and satisfaction results for your agency are displayed in this section, beginning with telework in Figure 6 below. Participation and satisfaction ratings for all other work/life programs are listed in Figures 8 and 9 on the following pages.

The Telework Enhancement Act of 2010 encouraged Federal agencies to expand their use of telework as a strategic management tool. Telework can be an important factor in attracting and retaining the best employees, improving morale and increasing the capacity to achieve agency mission and goals. This critical tool can also help reduce the cost of transit, in addition to providing flexibility in severe weather circumstances, emergencies, or other workplace disruptions. The telework figures below provide a snapshot of your agency's teleworking status, and are helpful in determining whether or not more effort should be focused on increasing telework in your agency.

DIVERSITY

Your agency's survey respondent characteristics

Figure 10 displays a few of the attributes of your agency's workforce. Understanding the characteristics of employees is a critical component of many organizational activities, such as workforce planning, recruiting, training and the availability of work/life programs and flexibilities.

APPENDIX A

Item results and benchmarks

Your agency's percent positive for each survey item is listed in the left column, and benchmarks are listed on the right for comparison purposes. The benchmark scores were compiled from the results for Departments and large agencies with 800 or more employees. Note that these benchmarks are based on 37 agencies where Army, Army Corps of Engineers, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps and Other Defense agencies/activities are rolled up into Department of Defense.

The following benchmark scores are listed to allow you to compare your agency's percent positive with the results of other agencies:

The highest and lowest percent positive scores

Represent the agency that scored the highest/lowest for that survey item.

The 90th, 50th, 10th percentiles

Compare your percent positive score with the percentile scores for each item. If your agency had a positive score of 83 percent for an item and the benchmark for the 90th percentile was 80 percent positive, then you can conclude that your agency is above the 90th percentile of agency scores for that item. In other words, your agency scored higher than at least 90 percent of the benchmark agencies.

APPENDIX C

Trend analysis: 2008 vs. 2010 vs. 2011 vs. 2012 results

Appendix C consists of a set of trend tables which displays your agency's positive results for each item for the last four survey administrations. The last column of the table indicates whether or not there were significant increases, decreases, or no changes in positive ratings from 2008 to 2010 (the first arrow), from 2010 to 2011 (the second arrow), and from 2011 to 2012 (the last arrow). Arrows slanting up indicate a statistically significant increase, and arrows slanting down indicate a statistically significant decrease. Horizontal arrows indicate the change was not statistically significant. For example, symbols →↗↗ indicate there was no significant change in positive ratings from 2008 to 2010, but there was a significant increase in positive ratings from 2010 to 2011, and from 2011 to 2012. Similarly, symbols ↘→→ indicate there was a significant decrease from 2008 to 2010, but there were no significant changes in positive ratings from 2010 to 2011 or from 2011 to 2012.

Human Capital Assessment and Accountability Framework ratings by subagency

To provide an in-depth understanding of your agency's HCAAF results, this appendix displays HCAAF results for each subagency. This targeted information is useful in highlighting notably high or low subagency results on each of the indices, and can be a starting point in information sharing across the agency. Subagencies that are strong in certain categories may be able to share their best practices with others that are encountering challenges in the same areas.

APPENDIX E

Employee engagement index ratings by subagency

This appendix provides a detailed look at employee engagement in your agency. Each subagency's overall Employee Engagement Index score is listed in the column on the right, and scores for each of the component indices are broken out in the columns on the left. Examining subagency results is important in taking action to improve employee engagement, as it allows leadership to easily spot high or low results in specific parts of the agency.

2012 Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey (FEVS) methods

The FEVS measures employees' perceptions of conditions within their agencies which contribute to their organizations' success. The survey provides general indicators of how well the Federal Government manages personnel. OPM and agency managers use these indicators in developing policy and planning actions to improve agency performance and evaluate individual agencies' progress towards long-term goals.

Federal employees have an intimate knowledge of the workings of the government at every level. The FEVS gives them the voice they need to point out inefficiencies and jobs well done. Senior managers can then use this information to make government more effective, and more responsive to the needs of the American people. This year, the FEVS reaches deeper into the government than it has in previous survey administrations. Reports are now offered to help managers at lower levels, resulting in a greater potential to celebrate successes and identify opportunities for change across each agency.

Survey items

The 98-item survey included 14 demographic questions and 84 items that measured Federal employees' perceptions about how effectively agencies manage their workforces. The 98 items in the questionnaire are grouped into eight topic areas that respondents see as they proceed through the survey: Personal Work Experiences, Work Unit, Agency, Supervisor/Team Leader, Leadership, Satisfaction, Work/Life and Demographics.

Survey sample

The 2012 survey was directed at full-time and part-time, permanent, non-seasonal employees. A total of 82 agencies participated in the survey effort, consisting of 37 Departments/large agencies and 45 small/independent agencies. Nearly all participating agencies chose to have the survey administered as a census, that is, they wanted all of their eligible employees to be invited to take the survey.

The sampling frame was based on lists of employees from all agencies participating in the survey. Employees were grouped into 1,754 sample subgroups corresponding to agency, subagency and supervisory status reporting requirements. A total of 1,622,375 employees were invited to participate from 82 agencies. These agencies comprise 97 percent of the executive branch workforce.

Data collection

Survey administration

The survey was administered from April-June 2012. Agency launch dates were staggered throughout this timeframe, and each agency was offered a six week administration period but could opt for a shorter administration period.

Survey mode

The 2012 FEVS was a self-administered Web survey. OPM distributed paper versions of the survey to components of agencies that did not have internet access (less than 1 percent).

Response rate

Of the 1,492,418 employees who received the FEVS, 687,687 completed the survey for a governmentwide response rate of 46.1 percent.

Data weighting

Data collected from the 2012 survey respondents were weighted to produce survey estimates that accurately represent the survey population. Unweighted data could produce biased estimates of population statistics. The weights developed for the 2012 FEVS take into account the variable probabilities of selection across the sample domains, nonresponse and known demographic characteristics of the survey population. Thus, the final data set reflects the agency composition and demographic makeup of the Federal workforce within plus or minus 1 percentage point.

Data analysis

In performing statistical analyses for this report, OPM employed a number of grouping procedures to simplify presentations. Most of the items had six response categories: Strongly Agree, Agree, Neither Agree nor Disagree, Disagree, Strongly Disagree and No Basis to Judge/Do Not Know. In some instances, these responses are collapsed into one positive category (Strongly Agree and Agree), one negative category (Strongly Disagree and Disagree) and a neutral category (Neither Agree nor Disagree). We conducted analyses on all survey items for the various demographic categories. More detailed survey statistics are available in the published Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey Data volumes for this survey and can be downloaded from OPM's Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey website: www.FedView.opm.gov.

"Do Not Know" and "No Basis to Judge" responses

Responses of Do Not Know/No Basis to Judge were removed before calculation of percentages. In 2006 and 2008, all responses were included in the calculations. To ensure comparability, data from previous years were recalculated, removing Do Not Know/No Basis to Judge responses, before any calculations with prior survey data were carried out.

Satisfaction with Work/Life Programs

In 2012, the work/life program satisfaction ratings only include employees who indicated that they participate in the specific work/life program. The 2011 work/life program satisfaction data were recalculated for comparison purposes.

Index development

The 2012 FEVS includes six indices: the four HCAAF (Human Capital Assessment and Accountability Framework) Indices, the Employee Engagement Index and the Global Satisfaction Index. These indices provide a dependable and consistent method for Federal agencies to assess different facets of the workforce.

HCAAF Indices

The HCAAF Indices were developed to help agencies meet the requirements of OPM's mandate under the Chief Human Capital Officers Act of 2002 to design systems, set standards and develop metrics for assessing the management of Federal employees. The FEVS provides supplementary information to evaluate Leadership and Knowledge Management, Results-Oriented Performance Culture and Talent Management, and provides an additional index on Job Satisfaction.

The Index scores were calculated by averaging the percent positive responses on the items within the Index. For example, if the item-level percent positive responses for a four-item Index were 20 percent, 40 percent, 60 percent and 80 percent, the HCAAF rating would be the average of these four percentages (20 + 40 + 60 + 80) divided by 4 = 50 percent.

Employee Engagement Index

The Employee Engagement Index was developed using a combination of theory and statistical analysis. Several items from the FEVS were selected based on a rationalization they would be representative of dimensions similar to other engagement “driver” measures. Items which used a satisfaction scale were excluded so as to differentiate between satisfaction and engagement.

An initial exploratory factor analysis revealed three factors consisting of sixteen items (Leadership, Supervision and Intrinsic Work Experience) with a single, underlying factor (Conditions Conducive to Employee Engagement). A confirmatory factor analysis was repeated with an independent dataset, which further supported the three-factor model. One item was removed for theoretical and statistical reasons, resulting in the fifteen-item, three-factor model.

Global Satisfaction Index

OPM created the Global Satisfaction Index to provide a more comprehensive indicator of employees’ overall work satisfaction. The index is a combination of employees’ satisfaction with their job, their pay and their organization, plus their willingness to recommend their organization as a good place to work.
