

FERC
insight

FERC Votes to Strengthen Order No. 1920 with Expanded State Provisions

The Commission's unanimous vote at its November open meeting largely affirms its landmark long-term transmission planning rule, Order No. 1920, with modifications that will bolster the ability of state regulators to participate in the long-term regional transmission planning process.

News Release

Order 1920-A

Kal Ayoub Named Director of Office of Electric Reliability

Ayoub brings more than 25 years of industry and regulatory experience in electric transmission and generation engineering, cybersecurity and bulk electric system reliability to the position. He has served as Chairman Phillips' Critical Infrastructure and Resilience Advisor since February 2023, and previously served as OER's Deputy Director of the Division of Cybersecurity.

News Release

Staff Issues Winter Energy Market and Electric Reliability Assessment

Expectations for a colder winter and a focus on gas-electric coordination and electric reliability are the spotlight of the 2024-2025 Winter Assessment. The Assessment provides Commission staff's outlook for electric markets and reliability for December 2024 through February 2025.

Quick Read: Gas-Electric Coordination Crucial

New Administrative Law Judges

Chairman Willie Phillips announced the appointments of Cheryl Feik Ryan and Brandon Flick as FERC Administrative Law Judges.

Request for Comments on Large Loads Co-Located at Generating Facilities

FERC staff is seeking comments on issues raised during the technical conference on Large Loads Co-Located at Generating Facilities. Comments are due December 9, 2024.

FERC Events

- November 28, 2024 | Thanksgiving (Federal Holiday)
- December 19, 2024 | Commission Meeting

Decisions and Notices

